

Polinformatics
New data, new methods, new insights

Thank you for applying to the 2017 Polinformatics Workshop. We are pleased to accept your proposal and look forward to your participation! Please review this letter carefully before confirming your attendance by March 1st (see link below).

Presentations. We only have two days and expect about 40 participants. To promote informed conversations, we ask that participants 1) submit a paper two weeks prior to the workshop, and 2) slides for a 5 minute “lightning” talk the day before the workshop.

Co-authors. We welcome co-authors but can only commit to reimbursing coach airfare and workshop accommodations for one participant per project. We can provide lodging and meals for one co-author.

Reimbursement. We have very limited window for processing travel reimbursements (the grant ends the day after the workshop). We will need your complete reimbursement paperwork and receipts within a week after the workshop. Details to follow.

Special travel arrangements. If you are making special travel arrangements such as traveling to a different location after the workshop, please be sure that you have the correct paperwork. Details to follow.

International travel. It is especially important that we review arrangements and paperwork for participants who are travelling internationally.

Arrivals. It takes about three hours to travel from the airport to the conference site. We recommend that people arrive Monday afternoon or evening. There are no accommodations at the conference center Wednesday night (after the workshop ends). Details to follow.

Click HERE to accept or decline this invitation.

https://docs.google.com/a/legsim.org/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScouiAg9pS8lc_nFw7XMugUFXq_ov2GHRKks592jHP-ZjTwtQ/viewform?c=0&w=1

We hope to see you at IslandWood this summer!

Anne Washington
John Wilkerson